

Short Course name: Post Graduate Certificate in Emotional Intelligence Coaching
Members name: David Payne
Organisation name: Measures for Success
Organisation location: DMC House, Pullman Business Park, Pullman Way, Ringwood, Hampshire, BH24 1HD

Short description:

- Do you want to be an emotionally intelligent coach, trainer or manager?
- Do you want to accelerate coaching results or differentiate yourself from other coaches?
- Do you want to champion the creation of an emotionally intelligent culture in your organisation?
- Do you want a personal development experience that truly helps you create positive outcomes and relationships in your life – both at work and home?

Designed & delivered by Tim Sparrow & Amanda Knight (the country's leading experts on Applied Emotional Intelligence) and based on their book, this course gives delegates an opportunity to accredit themselves at the front of a growing discipline:

Because EI correlates highly with performance, delegates work to improve their own EI over the course. We help delegates become even more personally and interpersonally effective whether their need is to work even better for their organisations or to market themselves and their coaching as an individual.

What sets this programme of learning apart is:

- the level to which the emotional intelligence coach or manager needs to be emotionally intelligent themselves.
- the quality of the EI measures.
- university accredited postgraduate certificate.

Agenda: Module 1: Foundation in Emotional Intelligence Self Mastery (2x2 days plus 1 day)

Module 2: Emotional Intelligence Coaching Skills (2x2 days plus 1 day)

Module 3: Emotional Intelligence Coaching Practice (2x2 days plus 1 day)

The programme runs over 9 months.

There is the option to study further for the Diploma in Emotional Intelligence Development which is suitable for those coaches who want to move into EI consulting and organisational change
